The “Roll-out Campfire” For Peter’s Denial

Materials List:

- A “faux flame” unit (purchased at a party or theatrical supply store)
The unit is made of bright orange and blue lights and a fan under one or two pieces of shimmery, reflective cloth. When the lights are on, they reflect onto the cloth. The fan blows the cloth and the combined effect looks like a fire flame.
- A sheet of plywood (approx. 3’ x 3’) onto which the flame unit, logs and optional wheels are attached.
- 5 small logs (approx. 3” in diameter and 2’ long)
- 4 wheels (optional)
- An extension cord (long enough to reach off stage)
- An “on and off” switch (optional)

Directions For Assembling The Campfire:

1. Purchase the “faux flame” unit
2. Attach the wheels to the underside of the plywood base (optional).
3. Attach the “faux flame” unit onto the plywood base.
4. Assemble the logs in a “t-pee” over the flame unit. Attach one of their ends to the plywood and the other ends to each other at the top.
